Fire Danger High In Redwood Empire

It was hot yesterday, it'll be hot today and tomorrow and there's no real break in sight.

In short, early summer is here, citizens.

Temperatures rose to 94 degrees in Santa Rosa yesterday and were matched and bettered at other spots throughout the Redwood Empire.

In Ukiah it was only 91 yesterday; Petaluma recorded a high of 90 degrees.

Fire dangers rose to the "very high" category by Division of Forestry standards, and extreme caution was urged to prevent early-year fires.

Winds remained relatively low through much of the Empire—but a screaming north wind was reported from Mount St. Helena this morning and further northeast it was fanning an out-of-control brushland fire that had covered 7,000 acres in the Wilber Springs area of Colusa county.

The peculiar wind pattern was revealed in Division of Forestry 7 a.m. reports that recorded a 50-mph north wind on St. Helena but breezes of only six to nine miles per hour on more westerly points.

Predicted high temperatures for today were 95 at Santa Rosa and 96 at Ukiah; both areas were expected to have low temperatures of 54 tonight.

Forestry Ranger William Miller, whose Lake-Colusa ranger district had three fires break out yesterday afternoon in the Wilber Springs area, said the rare early fire danger conditions were the worst since 1960.

He had 240 men on fire lines in the area this morning, mopping up two blazes that burned over a total of 600 acres and attempting to control the massive 7,000-acre fire that was raging southward through heavy brush in the steep, rugged country.

It was 105 degrees on the fire lines yesterday and the same was predicted for today.

Although fire-fighters had two observation planes in the air, the unexpected early fire dangers caught them without aerial tankers, operated under contract during the summer months.

"We shouldn't have had a fire like this for another six weeks," a Forestry spokesman said.

But "We have very difficult control problems at this time," and half of the perimeter of the spreading blaze remained open.

No structures were threatened and no injuries had been reported.

A small rash of fires was touched off elsewhere in the state over the weekend.

The worst was a 25,000-acre fire in Los Padres National Forest about 30 miles northwest (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Stockman Firm Goes Under Bankruptcy Act

Special to The Press Democrat

OAKLAND — The Stockman Development Co., owner of Oakland's Edgewater Inn, today filed in Federal District Court, Oakland, for reorganization under Chapter XI of the Bankruptcy Act.

H. J. (Jim) Stockman, Santa Rosa, explained that the action was taken in reply to a tax sale demand, and that no receivers would be appointed. This would put the company under the protection of Chapter XI for about 60 days after which it would be able "to back out of it," he said. Stockman Development Co. is definitely solvent.

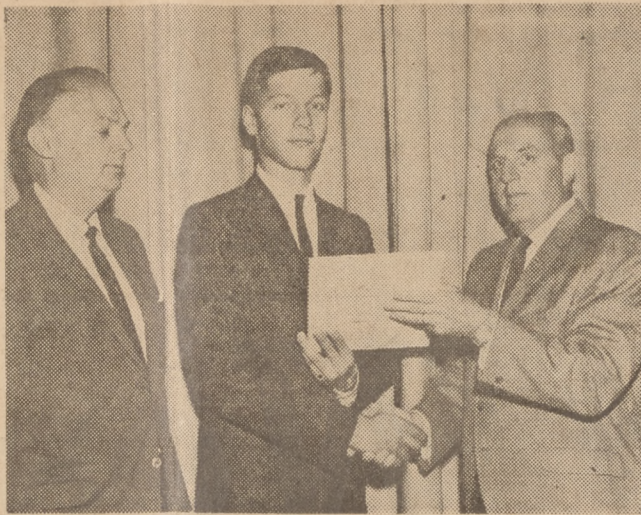

In a statement he said: "By doing this we will have the opportunity to arrange the best possible plan to secure the future of the hotel and satisfy all financial obligations. This financial reorganization will not affect the operation of the hotel."

Mr. Stockman said that the Edgewater Inn set new sales and profit records for the fiscal year ending in March. Also April and May this year broke all records for sales and profits for individual months. "In spite of outstanding sales, the reorganization is necessary due to the problems created by the opening of the Edgewater Inn at Long Beach three years ago, and the subsequent cancellation of the California Worlds Fair at Long Beach.

"However, the Long Beach Edgewater is now operating very successfully and in a high profit position. Stockman Development Co. shows total assets of $3,571,825.41 and total liabilities of $2,565,049.98; net worth, $1,006,382.33."

Mr. Stockman added that the planned reorganization will place the hotel on a sound financial basis.

JAMES E. CLARK, a graduating senior at Santa Rosa High School, has been named winner of a $350 scholarship sponsored by the Federal Personnel Council of Northern California and co-sponsored by the Federal Executive Board and federal employe organizations. Making the presentation is John Upsher Smith (right), deputy regional director of Region Seven, Office of Civil Defense. SRHS principal Frederick Duey offers congratulations. Young Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Clark of Santa Rosa, attended school in Cyprus and Lebanon while his father, currently director of the Foreign Broadcast Information Service in Forestville, served in those countries. Young Clark is a straight "A" student and has also been awarded a National Merit Scholarship. He has been accepted at Brown University, where he will major in political science. He intends to enter the Foreign Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI) — California weather summary:

High pressure continues to be centered off the Pacific Coast, with the center located 600 miles west of San Francisco.

A ridge of high pressure extends northeastward over Washington and Oregon, with another small center in Oregon. This gives a generally northeasterly flow of air over most of California with resultant clear skies and warm temperatures.

Cloudiness is some along the coast.

OUT-MONDAY

Each autumn, when the grape hangs heavy on the vine and the pungent smell of eucalyptus is sweet in the air, the California city of Sonoma celebrates an abundant harvest with the Valley of the Moon Vintage Wine Festival.

Calling on Old World traditions handed down for generations, the citizens of Sonoma and surrounding communities stage a two-day pageant of parades, folk dancing and wine tasting that attracts visitors from throughout Northern California. Sonoma, some 45 miles north of San Francisco, is in the heart of California's wine country. This year, the Vintage Festival is being held September 28 and 29.

Although dedicated to fun and lightheartedness, the festival is officially opened with a reverent blessing of the grapes by a spiritual descendant of Padre Jose Altimira, founder of the Mission San Francisco Solano de Sonoma, who first performed the ceremony 140 years ago.

Following the blessing of the grapes, a tour of the area's wineries is in order. For residents and visitors alike, the sampling of local wines is a part of the two-day program not to be missed. All major vineyards are open to the public, and there is considerable good-natured debate as to which has produced the best vintage.

cities of tomorrow still might not be large enough to satisfy the demand for seats.

If the craze for action-packed games played by the pros continues, and there's no reason to believe it will wane, the popularity of the sport could blast off to heights numbing to the imagination.

The day is not far off when the old established NFL and the fledgling AFL will settle their differences and live in peace. Far-sighted associates of the game see the two leagues administered to by two presidents and presided over by a single commissioner in a setup similar to baseball.

A single playoff game between the two league winners then would decide pro football's true champion.

This setup would further increase the efficiency of operation, bring about a common draft and end the ridiculous battle of the checkbook for the services of college stars.

Denver Broncos' (AFL) general manager and coach, Jack Faulkner, the circuit's Coach of the Year in 1962, says:

"Efficiency is important to any big business. Pro football has established efficiency by playing two platoons (offense and defense) and drafting collegians only to fill necessary needs in any given position.

"Coaches and players constantly strive for efficiency in their jobs

FROM COMMANDER W. S. ADAMS
16TH DISTRICT

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS
OF THE UNITED STATES

DEAR COMMANDER AND COMRADES:

With the passing of the First Quarter and the beginning of the second, I wish to thank all of you for keeping your shoulders to the wheel and in the spirit of true comradeship and doing the job that has to be done. Each and every post is to be congratulated. THANK YOU.

Since our last District Meeting of August, I have had the honor of visiting a few of the posts in the 16th District. I now understand why it is called the FIGHTING 16th. Now that a task I undertook, that is, Chairman of the Vintage Festival, is over, I shall look forward to my visits in earnest. I know that last year it was my privilege to have visited nearly all the posts in the 16TH District with Commander Davis and I am looking forward to seeing all of you again this year.

SOME DATES YOU SHOULD REMEMBER: October 17th - This is the Department Commander's annual visit to the Home Post 1020, Cpl. Edward L. Green at Yountsville - Time: 7:00. I am sure that all of us could help make this a happy and enjoyable evening for all of our comrades living at the home. It takes very little effort and you would add a lot of cheer. Thank you. Also our 16TH District Meeting will be held on the 6th day of November in Sebastapol. HOST: Post 3919 Goldridge. Lets all make plans now to be there. We have a lot of things to plan and there is no better place to do so than at a District get together.

In our great organization we have a motto, (Service to God and Country and above all - service to our comrades). As you know, in order to attain this goal we need membership. The Department has asked that the 16TH District meet a membership goal of 1500 new and continuous members by the 25th of the month of October. Knowing that all Quartermasters have sent out their dues reminders, and having the faith of JOB, I promised even more. I am sure that this will not cause any of us a strain, but just in case one should have forgotten, lets do a very natural thing and pick up the phone and call a comrade. Ask him if his dues are paid and if they are not, make arrangements to pick it up. Then ask if he would call some other comrade and ask for their dues. THANK YOU.

Lets all take up the challenge and make this year our greatest. Remember Bob's Slogan! BALANCE THE SCALE WITH MEMBERSHIP MIGHT.

Enclosed is a membership breakdown.

As you can see, we must go to work. I am sure that if the Quartermasters turn in all of their dues now, there will be a change in the picture.

Yours in Comradeship,

OCTOBER, 1966

W. S. Adams
16TH DISTRICT COMMANDER
